● chief call

Have you created or are planning a particularly interesting future space in your city? An area that is to be adapted or redesigned? Where very special or prototypical problems are to be addressed?

Every month an exciting case will be presented and discussed!

● products & services

Do you offer a smart product or service useful for Smart City projects? We are looking for smart exciting approaches for all possible areas of city life.

Every month a new product/service will be added to the URBAN MENUS platform!

We are looking for the 12 smartest city/community chiefs

Share your urban visions, potential analyses, and experiences with the URBAN MENUS platform. Get feedback and new ideas on how to, skillfully and consensus-based, integrate the values of happiness, safety, innovation, profitability, and circularity in your project.

Every month an exciting case is presented and discussed!

The award-winning city or its chief will be presented on the Smart City Platform and can take part, free of charge, in an URBAN MENUS Future Planning Training, in which the case will be discussed in detail: In other words, we will help you to reflect on your project by questioning its effects and values from a multi-perspective view, to ensure that as many people as possible will enjoy living and working in the place you want to create.

How is the selection made?

Choices are made transparently based on these criteria:

- URBAN MENUS Algorithm, which covers the 5 topics happiness, safety, innovation, profitability, circularity – we're searching for projects with different focal points
- Diversity of cases, because we want to create an exciting, broad platform that is neither specialized in one Smart City topic nor one city size
